“It is customary for Druids to meet from time to time, sharing their experiences and discoveries. We come together as colleagues and friends, performing ceremony, and celebrating festivals of the year together. As Wiccans have covens, Christians have congregations, Druids have Groves. The Grove is a name chosen in honour of the trees, great beings of nature, friends, teachers, and providers of life.”

~ Ivan McBeth

Membership in the Greenlake Grove follows the guidelines suggested by the Order of Bards Ovates and Druids, “Any member of the Order should be welcome at an OBOD group as a guest: either just ‘passing through’ or as a potentially permanent member.”

Accordingly, we welcome OBOD members who wish to join the grove--let us know if you would like to be a member. We performed a Bardic initiation for a new member over Beltane and can perform Bardic, Ovate, and Druid level initiations upon request.

~ Nicole and Ruth

“We live in a mysterious world. Mechanics do not explain the totality of it. We are held together human to human, by energies of love that are as strong as death. Our lives are held in the palm of the Divine, like leaves on the surface of water. Who knows all that is around us and that animates us?”
